President-Making.

We took occasion not long since to remark upon the prematurity of certain things-to wit: much of the agi tation about the question of slavery in the Territories, and about that of ad valorem, so-called, in this State. We may now add to these premature things, the danger of premature committals on the subject of the Presiden cy or Vice Presidency. We except from this, of course. the usual graceful and proper courtesy by which any State may present, and to some extent press, the name of a favorite citizen, without any irrevocable commitment or invidious discrimination against other good and prominent Democrats from other States. The course of angry committal for men or against men, is a decided reversal of the motto of the party which teaches us to go for measures and not men. It is true that this last axiom, like all mere axioms, requires to be taken with due allowance; for while human nature continues to be constituted as it is, we cannot wholly separate principles from their adventitious surroundings, nor hide from ourselves that much of the success of measures must depend upon the faithfulness and ability of those by whom they are to be advocated and carried out. It is not wrong, then, to look closely after men. It is wrong, however, to elevate the mere means from their justly subordinate position, to a consequence greater than that accorded to what ought to be the primary consideration,-Measures should be first in importance and consideration-then men should be looked after most carefully with a view to ascertaining the degree of faithfulness, energy, ability, and success, with which they will be likely to advocate, sustain, and carry out such measures. Of course personal popularity and all the other things that go to make up what is commonly known as availability, if combined with faithfulness, energy and talent, will be a valuable element in securing success, and it would be worse than folly not to give to this element its due weight—no less than its due weight, and no more. But men must be selected with reference to measures and principles-measures and prinsuit men, as we fear may be the case, if to the discussion of the supposed claims of mere men an amount of of consideration is given superior to that justly due to reigning house, who were originally Counts of Savoy. the principles and measures of the party.

than two months off-people will speculate about the five millions of dollars during the present year. Austria ington City, where politics is their daily business, do vout Catholics anywhere, their slighted Pontiff, Presidential chances form the standing topic.

Nearly every State has its candidate for the Presidential nomination with the exception of North Carolina. We need hardly go over the list, for of course many of these things must be regarded simply as the workings of State pride or the kindness of State compliment. As we anticipated, the failure of the Virginia Democratic State Convention to recommend Wise, is regarded as giving the Virginia track to R. M. T. Hunter of that State. Indeed, of the Southern aspirants, Mr. Hunter appears to be the favorite, at least with the North Carolinians.

The friends of Judge Douglas are making strenuous efforts to re-instate him in favor with the South, and not altogether without success. Still, however, the Southern members in Congress do not take fully to him yet, although he is not without many and strong friends-even in this section. His endorsement by the Indiana State Convention gives him the inside track over Gen. Lane at the North West. It may be proposed to run some ultra Southern man like Fitzpatrick, of Alabama, on the ticket with Mr. Douglas. These, however, are only be added, requiring each competitor to give a full state surmises—the talk of the President-Makers. Gen. Lane appears to be the second choice of the North West.

We have stated where the paper may be found. the merely complimentary votes cast for State favorites begin to be withdrawn, and the tug comes, then we shall see what we shall see, but one of those things will not be a nomination without some considerable balloting.

The "Dorsal Movement."

We stated a few days since, that the Murfreesboro' Southron, evidently speaking by authority, was after Mr. Wm. N. H. Smith, of the first district, with a sharp stick for saying, or allowing others to say for him, that he was not a Know Nothing, and didn't believe in their doctrines. Mr. Smith has felt the goading of that sharp stick, and on Tuesday last he tried an experiment in the backing and filling line, or, rather, he imitated a certain parade movement, known as "marking time."-He stepped out manfully without moving an inch-he could not deny that Mr. Pendleton represented him properly when he stated that he (Mr. Smith) did not sympathise with any of the proscriptive principles or doctrines of the American party; yet still he wanted to crawl round and tell the Know Nothings that elected this, the Third District. him that he thought them marvellous proper men. Then he burst out in a eulogy upon Henry Clay, caused the American Eagle to flap his wings and sat down, a rather unsatisfactory member of the Smith family.

Either Mr. Smith was sincere in his professions while the vote was pending for Speaker or he was not. If he was, let him stick to it. If he was not, there is no use in letting people know that he was so mean as to barter principle for position. Stick to your text Mr. Smith. No use in putting your dorsal fins so soon in motion.

THE HAVANA LOTTERY .- The Havana correspondent of the Charleston Courier, of the 13th inst., states that opposition : Colonel Rubio, the late Governor of Cienfuegos, drew one-half of the $100,000 prize in the last drawing.

We have half a notion not to waste good coursel any more upon the rabid oppositionists of this State, and we certainly would carry out our notion but for the tender regard we have for those who might be made to suffer innocently for the faults of others. As anticipated, the convention which met at Raleigh on the 22nd, did incontinently charge upon the Democratic party the most outrageous and heinous offencesindicted them as the authors of pretty much all the ills that flesh is heir to, while Mr. Rayner and others gave to Henry Winter Davis & Co., that endorsement which they might wish for in vain, even from the members of their own party in the State of Maryland. Of course Mr. Rayner would just as soon vote for a Black Republican as a Democrat, and he said so, though not without rebuke from Mr. Smith, of Halifax.

the ill-fated steamer: The Hungarian left Liverpool on Wednesday, the 8th inst., under command of Captain Jones, and touched at Queenstown, Ireland, as customary with the vessels of patronage which this trade has bestowed upon us the line, steaming away the next afternoon (Thursday, commenced business, has induced us to adopt the the 9th inst...) for Portland.

The Hungarian was, on this occasion, on her first voyage from Liverpool to Portland, her preceding trips naving been accomplished in good time and under very favorable circumstances. She was a screw propeller, belonging to the Montreal Ocean Mail Steamship Company, who own seven vessels, running alternately between Liverpool and Quebec, Portland or Montreal, in know of any cash Dry Goods House in New York the connection with the Grand Trunk Railway of Canada, dresses itself particularly to the Southern Trade, and just as suited the interests of trade and travel. Grange; Anglo Saxon, Capt. Balantine; Nova Scotia, Capt. Borland; North American, Capt. Alton; Canada, (new); new ship building.

As all the ships of the Montreal Mail Company were almost of consort size and capacity, we in a great measure describe the Hungarian when we republish the fol lowing description of the North Briton: .

The Montreal company have already lost one vessel, the Indian, which left Liverpool on the 9th of November last, and was totally wrecked on the island of Mary Joseph, Nova Scotia, on the 21st of that month, under circumstances nearly similar to the present, as no immediate communication could be had with her, and much doubt existed for some time as to her identity. This announcement will satisfy the numerous inquiries as to whether he intended to make a LIBEL SUIT—FRACAS BETWEEN COUNSEL.—Philadelohia, Feb. 22.—The editor of the Pennsylvanian has instituted a libel suit against the Sunday Atlas, and today, during the hearing of the case, a fracas occurred between Robert Tyler, Esq., representing the former, and James C. Vandyke, counsel for the latter. The police interfered to prevent a serious collision.

RECEIPTS AND EXPORTS OF COTTON .- New Orleans, Feb. 2.—The increased receipts of cotton at all the ports to late, as compared with the same period last year, now reach 540,000 bales. The exports for the week embrace 40,000 bales to England and 10,000 to Havre. From Mobile the exports of the week to England were 13,000.

BAUGH'S HIGHLY IMPROVED RAW BONE SUPER-PHOSPHATE OF LIME. MANUFACTURED FROM UNBURNT BONES, BY BAUGH & SONS. Vholesale Office and Stores,

No. 20 South Wharves, between Market and Chestnut Streets, Phila. CASH PRICE

$45 per 2000 pounds, (2½ cents per pound.)
'N THE PREPARATION of this valuable Manure, BONES ARE USED IN THEIR RAW STATE ONLY. They have never been BOILED OF CALCINED. They are taken as nature has made them, crushed with a powerful Machinery, and subjected to a process, by which, while all the virtues of the Bone is retained, a Fertilizer is procured, furnishing in a CONCENTRATED and SOLUBLE FORM the two indispensable ngredients for the growth of Plants and enriching the soil, viz: PHOSPHORIC ACID AND AMMONIA. These two ingre dients, by the use of "BAUGH'S RAW BONE SUPER PHOSPHATE," are given to the soil in all their original strength and purity. They assimilate at once with the soil, furnish all the needful Ammonia for the growing crop, giving it ample luxuriance, and leave the land permanently benefitted so that its presence can be traced for years after-

IN CALLING THE ATTENTION of the public valuable and recently discovered deposit of this is sing article, we will merely state, that like all other phoric guanos, it's most valuable constituent is phospi acid, or bone phosphate of lime; and that its mere value, as compared with other guanos of its kind, may easily determined by the amount of phosphoric acid or phosphate of lime it contains. In order, therefore, to the public a thorough knowledge of what Sombreroga does contain, we beg to refer to the following list of em chemists in different parts of the world, who have and it from average samples taken by themselves from the selection of specimens for analyzation. Each analysis be exhibited, if required under the original signature chemist named. Of Phosphate of Lime consisting of Phosphoric Acid Lime in nearly equal parts—it is found to contain
